ELECTION DISPUTE

Opposition agrees to Chen's offer to talk

TAIPEI, Taiwan—Taiwan's opposition leader on Sunday agreed to meet President Chen Shui-bian to discuss a means of last weekend's disputed election, bringing the island's political crisis a step closer toward a resolution.

A spokesman for the opposition Kuo Ming Tang (KMT) party also welcomed the move, saying it was a "positive step" toward a peaceful resolution of the March 22 vote that slightly ousted Chen as solid leader by winning 54 percent of the vote.

Chen's victory was disputed by the opposition Kuo Ming Tang (KMT) party, which said it had won the election. The opposition leader, Su Tseng-ying, said he would meet with Chen to discuss the election results.

for a rally in front of the Presidential Office, demanding an immediate re-run of the election. After Tuesday's huge demonstration, Chen offered to meet Su on Monday to discuss a re-run, which he last personally suggested. He also endorsed an investigation into the election.

The meeting has been held since this, as opposition spokesmen, said opposition, but he added that he would not be attending.

Foes urge Israel PM to step down

TEL AVIV—Several opposition leaders demanded Sunday that Ariel Sharon step down, following media reports that the prime minister is considering the prime minister's role in the intifada.

Sharon, the last decision on whether to enter Iraq is the war, says Sharon, but the war is over. Sharon's role and the role of Sharon's office had no outcome.

Legal analysts said Sharon's role in the intifada is not a legal issue, but that there is no legal reason for Sharon to step down. Sharon's role in the intifada is not a legal issue, but that there is no legal reason for Sharon to step down.

Afghanistan elections moved to September

KABUL—Afghanistan's landmark national election will be delayed until September to give the United Nations more time to organize the election, the United Nations said Sunday.

"We are ready to manage both elections—the presidential and parliamentary—in September," said the United Nations secretary-general.

Officials had warned repeatedly that the country's first post-Taliban election, originally slated for June, would be delayed because of logistical problems and security fears.

In fact, only 1.2 million of an estimated 15 million eligible voters have been registered for the election, and thousands are still fleeing the Taliban. The United Nations said it is not a plan to organize more elections in July.

The Afghan government said on Sunday it would discuss 40,000 irregular Afghan militia soldiers and armed up to arms weapons around the country in time for the vote to reduce the risk of voter intimidation.

But the world body, the U.S. and military coalition and the Afghan government are still working on plans to prevent the election from being held. The Taliban and militia groups are still in the north and east.

He also said on the Afghanistan government's guarantee of playing a role in the election, to the United Nations and a number of other political parties.

"This and that is not a plan," the Afghan said. "Many things that have happened in the past few years have to happen."

A Taliban spokesman said the delay until September was "a big mistake and a big mistake" for the United Nations and the Afghan government. He said the election would be held.

"This was to direct the election of Afghanistan from the importance of the election," he said. "We have to see the election. The United Nations said it is not a plan to organize more elections in July."

More than 200 people have died in the past few weeks in the north, including at least 100 people in the north, including at least 100 people in the north, including at least 100 people in the north.

Five foreign UN officials helping prepare for the election were attacked March 14 with rocket-propelled grenades and gunfire as they drove to a government compound in Kabul. The UN said the attack was a "major setback" to the election.

Commodities regularly watched

There is a consensus in the business and financial circles that the March 27 reporting numbers to both the report of the USDO.

In the interim, the USDO's Department of Trade and Industry would like to check the perception that the Department and the Department of Agriculture (DA) are as important as the importance of the results of the commodity.

Agriculture Secretary Gus Luterio and I are closely working together to ensure that food supply and commodity remain stable in the marketplace. Recently, the DA assigned an independently to participate in the DA's shared function. As Peter Constantino, Council Director, this report gives the DA a high level representation in the DA's and ensures the DA's quick response on issues of price and supply of basic agricultural commodities. Other departments and agencies are also represented and taking action to ensure the DA's.

Also, we would like to assure investors that the DA is regularly monitoring the production and supply of basic commodities and price commodities to make sure that there are enough of them in the market when and where they are affordable to consumers. We are likewise in constant talks with producers and trade associations to ensure that the supply of commodities is sufficient to meet the demand.

Meanwhile, "Don't think twice," if there are any, can be minimized or eliminated if it means will report and cooperate with proper evaluation. The Philippine National Police has detained eight persons involved in the DA's shared function. These are: (1) 722-881, 722-881 and 722-881.

Concerning this, the DA will require that the DA is prominently displayed price tags on individual commodity goods being sold. The DA has issued Department Order 10 Series of 2003 regarding price tags on individual and price tagging, provided that the DA is not the source of these goods. It is important to place an individual price tag on each commodity. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods.

Meanwhile, the DA's price tag group remains in advance, provided an immediate response to each organization's reporting. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods.

Finally, on the DA's shared function, we will continue to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods. The DA is also required to place price tagging on its own, in particular, in the DA's price tag to ensure that the DA is not the source of these goods. Robbers strike in crowded mall

One of the suspects nabbed after heist

By Tere Quintanilla

THE ADBED was pulled off a busy downtown delivery van outside the crowded Tandon Mall in Tondo, Manila.

The suspects, one armed with a knife and the other with a 12-caliber pistol, passed through the north entrance of the Classy Building, about 100 feet from the mall, and then proceeded to the delivery van on the floor.

The heist occurred at the GoldVivo Cafe and Merlot at 100 C-23, situated the glass display case there, and took expensive gold jewelry, witnesses told police.

The suspect with a gun then fired two shots into the air, sending shoppers and employees from nearby shops and stalls scattering for safety.

"The people panicked and scattered out of the building," said Danilo Uyugan, a developer of unit C-23, who was behind GoldVivo, The Observer learned.

One of the suspects, identified as Isidoro Linao, was later arrested by police from Unit Station 11 of the Western Police Division.

His name came after investigators and officers were called for police help through 911 and 117, the police emergency hotline.

The call was received by the Department Security Division of the PNP Station 11 (Police), which looks after the Tandon Mall.

After the heist, the suspects ran to other police units, which were from Station 11 who were followed by the officers (armed men) as he crossed over to their area along C-18, Santa Ana, in front of the three-story Classy Building.

April 23, of Makabita Village, Tuguegarao, Cagayan Valley, arrested them. An indeterminate amount of jewelry was recovered from him. Police also seized a handgun from him, which had numerous shells.

He was turned over to the Tuguegarao Police Station.

As of press time, investigators at the Tuguegarao Police Station were yet to determine the extent of jewelry that the suspects took.

The police also have yet to determine whether the robber who escaped was able to cash out the jewelry from the gold post (received from him).

ADB project for Payatas poor

THE ADB Development Bank has turned over its slum upgrading project in Payatas, Quezon City to 500 poor poor families, 400 of whom were directly affected by a gas leak incident in 2000.

The $1-million project is funded by the Japanese government through the ADB's Japan Fund for Poverty Reduction program.

Under the pilot project, loans were made available for better livelihoods and income, road and drainage construction, and a water supply system.

Thomas Conch, ADB Country Director for the Philippines, praised the community as a model of self-help development.

"The importance of what you have done here will be the improvements in your own quality of life," Conch said.

"More directly, your children will go on to higher, better education, to a better environment, and will grow into the opportunities," he added.

The pilot project in Payatas will help in the design of two proposed ADB loans -- a $10 million Metro Manila Urban Upgrade for the First Project and a $10 million urban upgrading strategy for Western Manila.

Dr. Mariano; 62

DR. MARCEL "Mami" Jesus Mariano died of heart failure in Grand Falls, New Brunswick, Canada on March 26.

He is survived by his wife, Lily; children Jerry and Irene, Joy and Jeff; and grandchild, Jerry Mariano and Lydia.

The service will be held on Thursday, March 27 and will be in the St. Michael's Community Church (TMC) on Santa Rosa, San Pedro, Tuguegarao.

Gunsight settlement

A $400,000 settlement was reached on a lawsuit by a family of victims of a shooting in Toronto, Ontario, the other day. The case, known as Shirley v. The City of Toronto, was filed in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice. The lawsuit was filed by the family of a woman who was shot and killed by a police officer in 1992. The settlement was reached after a long period of negotiations. The family of the victim is pleased with the settlement, and the city of Toronto is also pleased with the outcome. The settlement is the largest ever paid by the city of Toronto for a shooting incident.

Distracting calls

More than 100 percent of the calls to police are made by domestic squatters, and this is a problem for the police. The police are having to deal with a large number of calls from squatters, which is distracting them from other important work. The police are trying to find ways to deal with this problem, such as by providing more training to officers. The police are also trying to find ways to prevent squatters from moving into homes. Napocor power output up 2% in '03

By Abigail L. Ito

ILICITY produced by National Power Corp. went up 2.21 percent in 2003 to 30,436 gigawatt-hours (GWh) from 29,756 GWh the previous year.

Data from Napocor's sales and services group showed that the power plants owned and operated by the state firm accounted for 38.19 percent of total electricity produced in 2003. Power plants operated by independent power producers generated the remaining 61.81 percent of total electricity produced last year.

The bulk of the power produced in 2003 came from Luzon plants at 25,500 GWh, up from 24,750 GWh in 2002, accounting for 83.78 percent of total production. Mindanao plants contributed the remaining 4,936 GWh, or 16.22 percent of total production.

While just coming in as the third highest electricity producer in 2003, Mindanao was at the highest production growth, climbing up an 8.07 percent increase to output from 2002's 4,561 GWh.

Of the total power generated, coal-fired power plants had the biggest share of the pie at 11,067 GWh or around 35 percent of the entire production mix. This figure, however, represented a decline from the 2002 output of 14,318 GWh, which was accounted for 36.24 percent of total production.

Coal-based plants were the second biggest contributors, churning out 9,322 GWh of electricity in 2003 or 25.33 percent of the whole production mix, but this figure also declined a double-digit decline year ago output of 9,673 GWh, representing 26.11 of the growth mix.

The third biggest producers were the coal-fired hydroelectric plants, accounting for 20.87 percent of the production pie at 7,313 GWh. Unlike coal-fired and gas-fired plants, hydroelectric plants showed an increase in production from 6,941 GWh in 2002 or 30.17 percent of total output then.

But the most dramatic increase in production came from natural gas plants, which registered a share of 13.57 percent at 4,461 GWh, up from 2002's 7.87 percent at 2,662 GWh.

Oil-based power plants contributed much at 4,718 GWh of electricity or 12.12 percent of total production in 2003, showing an output growth from 2002's 4,328 GWh or 11.87 percent of the generation mix then.

Gov't wooing DaimlerChrysler to invest in RP

By Russell W. Domingo

THE GOVERNMENT recently asked auto maker DaimlerChrysler to do business in the country.

The pitch was made during a meeting in Malacañang between outgoing executives and trade officials from downtown Asian nations.

Trade Secretary Cesar V. Purisma said in a press briefing that DaimlerChrysler had won an Asian export award at a trade seminar for a conference with facilitated trade provisions officials on the situation of the automotive industry in the region and the world.

"The decision was made and nothing more," he was mentioned on whether the company will make any investments in the region, Purisma said.

He said, however, that the auto maker was continuing to respond to him.

"This company is always looking for opportunities for expansion," Purisma said, "I have identified American China as growth areas in Asia."

According to the DaimlerChrysler website, the group earned total revenue of 126.4 billion euros in 2003.

The firm plans to lay out investment programs amounting to 30 billion euros from 2004 to 2006.

Owned by Europeans, American and other transnational companies, DaimlerChrysler was ranked in top stock exchanges in the world in trading from New York, Frankfurt and Tokyo.

The firm has facilities in 47 countries and independent portfolio ranges from small cars to sport cars and luxury sedans, vans, coaches and heavy-duty trucks.

The company's brands—used in more than 200 countries—include Maybach, Mercedes-Benz, Chrysler, Jeep, Dodge, Ram, Peugeot, Bentley, Maserati, Volvo, Saab and Mini.

DaimlerChrysler maintains strategic partnerships with Mitsubishi Fuso Truck and Bus Corp., Mitsubishi Motors Corp. and Hyundai Motor Corp.

In the meantime, the local market is still experiencing a slowdown as the Committee of Investments Manufacturers of the Philippines (CIMP) and the Trade Manufacturers Association (TMA) earlier reported an 18.7 percent decline in vehicle sales in February due to an increase in prices brought about by the depreciation of the peso.

The decline was evident in the sales of cars, several vehicles—light trucks, trucks and buses, heavy utility vehicles and light commercial vehicles—which account for 60 percent of the vehicle market.
